Article Side
Silver Fern Visa and Work in New Zealand by Francis

Article published on December 10th 2011 | Travel Tips

Silver fern visa attract young highly skilled people to work in New Zealand. To obtain this visa you must be aged between 20 and 35 and have a national diploma, bachelor degree or trade qualification with at least 2 years relevant work experience. With only 300 silver fern visa being issued each year you are advised to begin the process as soon as possible in order to have a chance of selection. It only granted once per year in April.

Silver fern visa is valid for travel to New Zealand within six months of being granted. Once you arrive in New Zealand you can search for a job for up to nine months.

The silver fern visa consists of 2 sub policies which include:

The silver fern job search is for nine months to enter the country and search for employment. Once you have the employment in place then you can apply for permanent residency. You must be outside New Zealand at the time of application, have recognized qualification, meet English language requirements and you should have available funds to support yourself during the stay in New Zealand. This visa allows you re-entry to New Zealand on multiple occasions for the duration of the work permit.

Silver fern practical experience is for those who find skilled employment which allow you to work in that employment for 2 years. To qualify you must hold a silver fern job search visa and have an offer of employment for a term of 12 months, meet health and character requirements and not have held pervious silver fern practical experience. You must remain in the occupation with the employer specified on the job offer.

With the exception of New Zealand and Australian citizens everyone else will need a work visa in order to work in New Zealand either temporary or permanent. New Zealand offers a unique working environment and welcomes those individuals and families who can contribute to the development of the country. If you wish to work in New Zealand or have skills or talents that are in demand in New Zealand you may obtain a permanent residence. New Zealand boost for having one of the world highest income per capital and its people are friendly and welcoming. You can work temporary in new Zealand if you have a job offer from a new Zealand employer, you want to gain work experience and you are skilled in occupation that are in demand.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-tips-articles/silver-fern-visa-and-work-in-new-zealand.htm - Article Side

Francis - About Author:
Francis is a professional SEM/SEO,link builder and article writer who writes on different niches.a
http://globalvisas.net.au/countries/

Article Keywords:
silver fern visa, work in new zealand, work

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!