Working Visa New Zealand and New Zealand Working Holiday Visa by Francis

Article published on January 6th 2012 | Travel Tips

Working visa New Zealand allows workers with skills to enter in to the country to work for a specified period of time. To be eligible to work in New Zealand you need to meet the NZ working visa requirements.

The following are the different type of working visa new Zealand:

â€¢ Work to residence allows New Zealand employers to offer work to non-new Zealand citizens without having to prove that there are no suitable qualified new Zealanders able to fill the post workers accepted under this category and they can become eligible for New Zealand residence after two years.

â€¢ Skilled migrant is for people who have skills, qualification and experience New Zealand needs to grow and address skills shortages and to live and work permanently in New Zealand.

â€¢ Employee of a relocating category is available to key employers of businesses relocating their operations to New Zealand. Your business will have to meet New Zealand requirements and you must work for relocated business for two years.

â€¢ Particular event or purpose is for people with a job offer from a New Zealand employer and wish to work temporary in New Zealand. It is for entertainers, coachers and many others.

â€¢ Working holiday visa is for young people aged between the age of 18 and 30 years who want to wok as they travel in New Zealand. This visa is extendable if you show that you have worked in a horticulture or viticulture industries for 3 months.

New Zealand working holiday visa gives young people an opportunity to travel around New Zealand taking up casual employment to help finance your holiday. This visa permits you to stay for 12 months and you may only stay with one employer for a maximum of 6 months. You may also study or train for up to 3 months.

To be eligible for a New Zealand working holiday visa you must:

Be outside New Zealand

Have a valid passport from eligible country that is valid for at least three months after your planned departure from New Zealand

Be between the ages of 18 and 30 years

Have no dependant children

Meet medical and character requirements

Traveling to New Zealand on holiday work being secondary

Hold a valid passport from countries with agreement with New Zealand

You may leave and re-enter New Zealand as long as the visa is valid. Application for

New Zealand visa take up to 2 weeks and in some cases it may take longer. You will be given 12 months to activate your visa and is activated by entry to New Zealand. Your 12 months in New Zealand will start from the day of entry.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-tips-articles/working-visa-new-zealand-and-new-zealand-working-holiday-visa.htm - Article Side

Francis - About Author:
Francis is a professional SEM/SEO,link builder and article writer who writes on different niches.a
http://globalvisas.net.au/countries/

Article Keywords:
working visa new zealand, new zealand working holiday visa, working holiday visa

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!