As the saying goes, the devil is in the detail, and factory owners or other manual firm employees will know that this is the case when it comes to equipment. To ensure that equipment used is reliable and durable, every detail must be correct, and while they may be small, castor wheels are essential elements to many pieces of equipment.

The right castor wheels will easily move around, and will be able to take large loads of a wide range of items. There are many different options when it comes to castor wheels, from push in peg castor wheels to plastic castor wheels, expander castor wheels, single thread castor wheels, single bolt holt castor wheels and plate fixing castor wheels, with four bolt holes. These are the most secure kind of fixings and castor wheels, and this makes them the best choice for those who need castor wheels which can withstand heavy weights and large volumes.

Here at Priory Castor we specialise in castor wheels and our range of castor wheels is both extensive and top quality, giving our castor wheels customers the chance to get the very best castor wheels for their needs and budget.

Our experience in the castor wheels sector cannot be matched, and we have been manufacturing castor wheels since 1938.
