After facing a dreadful road accident, often victims are found in a doubt whether they are eligible for claiming whiplash compensation amount or not. Here, it is worthwhile to mention that not only car or bike accidents fall under the category of this kind of compensation. In addition, a similar road accident where the victim is hurt at the time of getting into a running bus or car may call for such claims. After experiencing pain and suffering resulted by the accident, victims lose self-confidence most of the time. Hence, they live in a dilemma and cannot take any firm decision whether they should claim whiplash amount or not.

In several cases, the victims cannot feel the aftereffects of the accident immediately and hence neglect medical checkups. Later on, as the time passes by, they start experiencing the side effects of previously happened road accidents such as neck or joint pain, body ache, headache etc. At that time it is advisable for them to contact a medical practitioner as well as the local accident and injury department to know whether he can proceed towards whiplash claims compensation or not. It is also necessary for him to keep the medical documents and important paper works ready at hand before going to claim any amount.

When the local accident and injury department is contacted by a victim or his family, it is the job of that department to determine how much the victims deserve as whiplash claim amount for the road accident he had met with. This is basically decided on the basis of criticality and severity of the problems that the victim is suffering from. When all the required documents are submitted along with a registered medical practitioner's prescription, then it might take one month approximately for the victim to get the compensation amount. He may also claim for medical treatment expenses including the cost of doctor's fees, and medicinal costs.
