Article published on December 25th 2011 | Business

Though Mexico is a great well like destination the visitors of US, the Guadalajara city appears to attract a small number of tourists of international type only, despite of the fact that both especially attractive and the largest second city of the country. Though number of Mexican city may put claim to this notable title, it is Guadalajara actually which place of origin and home to both the infamous Mexican hat dance and mariachi bands. The city host the yearly International Mariachi Fair during early September and late August with mariachi bands from in the region of Mexico and the people from various places enters the city for competitions, parades and public performances in many venues near the historic center and on the streets. However, mariachi is not the only attraction of Guadalajara.

The historic center is really amazing; including the extraordinary Plaza de Armas and impressive colonial buildings such as the Virgin of Assumption Cathedral, Palacio de Gobierno, and the UNESCO World Heritage listed Institute Cultural Cabanas. Mercado Libertad is located also in the center and is frequently called as being the greatest market in Latin America. It contains of small shops selling souvenirs, food, leather goods, furniture and items for household purposes. It is a great place also to choose picnic items or take a quick meal. However, one will miss a real opportunity if one does not visit the Furniture Stores in Guadalajara where numbers of beautiful furniture are available.

In fact, no journey to Guadalajara is complete not having an evening leisurely walk through Plaza de los Mariachis. In the south of the city are open grassy fields of Parque Agua Azul, an orchid house, a butterfly enclosure, entertainment and aviaries venues like the big outdoor auditorium called â€œLa Concha Acusticaâ€• where concerts and theatre are done. Local musicians both professional and amateur perform also along a space within the park called â€œMusicians Boulevardâ€•. The month of October finds the town comes alive with the cultural activities, crafts displays, artistic exhibitions and annual Guadalajara Festival featuring music. While one makes a trip to Guadalajara, one will find a small town known as Tonala having GD which is about twenty minutes from the center of the city has large number of furniture stores.

In this Furniture Stores in Guadalajara, one will get the quality and prices very attractive compared to other places in the US. In fact, there are various furniture makers all in quality levels and stores in this area. Interesting Expo is there for oneâ€™s line of business which takes place in Guadalajara Metro Area twice a year. This is termed ENART and it is hosted in August and February yearly. Various tourists visit this area to purchase furniture and decorations for their stores throughout the world and persons who are furnishing their house also come here. One will get total satisfaction in furniture stores that keeps quality furniture products which are ideal blend of utility and style for simply replacing oneâ€™s old furniture or giving a face lift to oneâ€™s home dÃ©cor.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/buying-furniture-from-furniture-stores-in-guadalajara.htm - Article Side

Annamawrick - About Author:
The ideal place for shopping furniture in Guadalajara is a Furniture Stores in Guadalajara and will always find superb quality, designs and contemporary fashion in a Furniture Stores in Guadalajara.

Article Keywords:
Furniture Stores in Guadalajara

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!