ColorFx is the Place to Be for Commercial Printing by Nishaidhijames

Article published on August 21st 2012 | Business

A company that is relatively young and run by a family found itself in Fortune magazine's Inner City 100 2012, a list that contains the fastest growing enterprises in the United States in 2012. Based in Sun Valley, California for the past seventeen years, ColorFX, Inc is known for its excellent, high quality products and efficient customer services. The building that stands on 28,000 square feet of land is where a variety of products are printed using the latest technology that reflect extensive advancement in printing since it first started with Gutenberg's printing press. And from that building, the products are delivered to the customer's destination.

This wholesale printing enterprise primarily prints for commercial purposes. The method of printing is either offset printing or digital on demand printing. Various businesses use their products to show their individuality and make their brand more prominent. Banners, business cards, folders, letter heads, booklets, brochures, calendars, flyers, newsletters, notepads, menus, sales sheets and post cards are some of the products that ColorFX prints at the customer's requests. They also make custom product packaging (folding cartons) and labels.

Apart from just printing these tangibles, the company also offers its customers standard templates for their products. It also offers its customers user friendly website and other internet based access point, MySpace. Once the customers log in to the website, they can initiate and monitor the development of their product(s) as well as maintain a database for the same. From the website, you can also get the cost estimate (including shipping) and pay for them online. The company makes it even easier as it assures delivery to your desired destination by any mode- cargo, trucking, etc. The products printed by the company are valued at "Most Competitive Prices". Also, when you go to their website, you will see that they have discount offers on many products which will save your money to some extent.
