This article is based on renting a property in Edinburgh so if you want to rent a property or you are in process then this article will help you in this matter. Rent out a property is one of the difficult decisions in your life. So in this regard you should wait for a right property and then make a right decision. There are many things; you must pay attention on them before making a decision on rental property.

Set a budget

First important thing is that you must prepare a budget sheet on factual basis for yourself. You should set your budget along with rent and other expenses that you can pay easily. You must keep in mind the deposit that you have to pay at the time of contract. You have to make an aim that you will not go beyond your limits while deciding a property.

Investigate the property market

This is an art to search a property within your budget. There are many options to search out best property like local news paper, internet, and College Boards which are used by the landlord for property advertisement. Internet has the number of websites which provides the property information along with their property features, price information and pictures. These websites also provide the rent and security information besides the other features of the property. This is a filtration process, by which, you can decide easily. There is another option of letting agent who has the specialized knowledge about the property market. You must inform to the letting agent about your requirements, whether these are fixed or flexible. You must get the most out of the letting agent. You must inform to the letting agent about location of the area which is suitable for you.

Listing important features for you

It is very important that you should prepare a list along with features which fulfills your requirements that you want to obtain in property. Your list will contain different points like number of bedrooms, kitchen size, garden, garage, transport facilities, and local market etc. After that you can start searching easily when you will have this list.

Property viewing

When you are going to view a property so do not go alone. It is better that you should go with you friend or with property agent. There are two reasons behind it one is to inspect a property in better way and other is security problem. You should have a note book with you and make the notes about property features. Do not forget to take the pictures of the property. You must check the interior and exterior of the property. Put the questions to landlord or agent about every ambiguity.

Once you are satisfied with a property, the next step is negotiating the landlord and entering into a tenancy contract.
