Earn More with Hub Zone Certification by Steven Brown

Article published on June 28th 2012 | Business

A Hub Zone Certification always helps a company to grow its business. There are certain clauses, which an organization must adhere to so that it can enjoy all the benefits. The government has made it mandatory that the area of operation of a business should be located in a Hubzone. Check out with the SBA website if you are not sure with the status of your region. You can ask the officials through live chat or can meet them in person. SBA will only treat your Head office as the registered one of your company. Ensure that the name and postal address of the firm has been entered correctly in the application form. The department declares a certain percentage of the employees who must reside in a Hubzone. Your staff must carry their photo identity cards to the departmental office. This will enhance transparency. A citizen of the United States must hold 51 percent stake in the company. This is a major pre-requisite. Disseminate all pertinent information regarding the goods and services to the officials. You may highlight the special features of your business and its impact on a particular industry.

SBA Hubzone is primarily a geographical region where there is a huge number of unemployed youths and an alarming scenario of low grade development. Therefore this certification means a lot to the residents here. It generally takes 5 to 6 months to process the certificate. Since the number of applicants increases each year, you need to focus on the guidelines and do accordingly. You get plenty of time to go through all your documents. Your e-mail is of utmost important because you will be receiving all important information regarding the program. Failure to respond to any mail from SBA will result in rejection of your application for a particular session. Experts examine your applications and submit their reports based on the transparency of your information. Always be careful that you are not missing out on anything relevant to the certification program.

Government contract is always a boon to any business. But HubZone Certification is a very convenient way of entering the government arena. It is less complicated and is often considered as the gateway to federal contracts. It has been observed that people staying in minority areas regard this program as a legitimate gift from the government. If you are following all the norms sincerely then you are almost certain to win a lucrative contract. However you still have to work hard even after getting a contract under this program. There are other intricacies which you must understand and abide by to get the most out of this certification. Each applicant is entitled to get free consultation from the SBA. This is an added advantage as in other government contracts; each and every advice has a price tag. These sessions help you to gain a lot of knowledge in government laws and are targeted at solving all your queries.

A Hubzone certified business is always on the top of the chart amidst its competitors. It can build its core values and has a golden opportunity to establish very good contacts in the federal market. The employees will have a distinct identity of their own unlike their peers in other firms. It is also a great tool in branding. This might be an alien word to a firm doing business in a minority region, but it is a vital ingredient of organizational survival in mainstream business.
