If you have been fired recently, and you believe that you may have lost your job for an unlawful reason, you may have a right to bring a claim for wrongful termination against your former employer. Legal remedies that may be available to you include money damages and, if you haven't been officially released yet, negotiation for an appropriate severance package that includes compensation. Employers have a great deal of latitude in terminating employees; there are laws in place that protect employees from discrimination and wrongful discharge. JLondon provides Wrongful Termination Attorneys Chicago. These laws prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, religion, national origin, disability, and age, and in some cases, other specific categories. JLondon believes that consumers need to be educated for fraud against them, and also need to stand up for their rights whether by pursuing an individual or class action claim when the facts warrant pursuing such an action. We also believe consumers should be compensated for injury caused by defective or deceptive products. Every year many consumers are ripped off for billions of dollars by unscrupulous companies and businesses. For all these problems we are here to take care of you.
