Benioff answered, â€œI think, if we didnâ€™t have the stones to sometimes go against what some of the fans would like, we would be the wrong people for the job. Because you have to be able to do what you think is right for the show and, ultimately, itâ€™s not a democracy. We have to make the decisions. Weâ€™re the ones writing most of the scripts, and making the final decisions on creative matters.â€• â€œWe canâ€™t go out there and have a poll, we canâ€™t do an Internet poll and say â€˜So what do you have happen in this fight scene?â€™ You gotta make the decisions, and often you gotta make them very quickly and you gotta make hundreds of them every day. And youâ€™re not gonna get every one right, but you hope if youâ€™ve got the right basic philosophy for the story and how to tell the story, you will get the lionâ€™s share right.â€• â€œI admit, I hadnâ€™t heard of the books,â€• Benioff explained. â€œI had been a giant fantasy fan grow then moved away from it. And hadnâ€™t read a fantasy book in probably 15 years when I got these books and hadnâ€™t heard of them and saw this, what is it, 4400 pages or something, and at first I was thinking, â€˜Youâ€™ve gotta be kidding me.â€™â€•
