Get extensive coverage with Nissan used car warranty by Ashish Pandey

Article published on February 11th 2012 | Business

Nissan cars have carved a niche for themselves with car enthusiasts. The company manufactures various kinds of cars and vehicles for people with different needs and requirements. Whatever be the model of the car, one thing is sure that all the models come with new car warranty for sure. Providing warranty is a common thing and is done by majority of the car manufacturing companies. Nissan also provides warranty on not only new cars but also on used cars. With Nissan used car warranty, your old car also remains secured and protected. It provides customers immense peace of mind as well.

Warranty on Nissan used cars

If customers have used Nissan cars, they need not worry. There is Nissan used car warranty available for them so that their car remains well protected and safe. Extensive warranty coverage is provided to the customers, which is not found in many car manufacturing companies. You will be amazed to know about the things that are covered under the warranty scheme. Some of them are as follows:

â€¢ Powertrain coverage that is provided in Nissan used car warranty can be extended till 7 years/100,000 miles, which ever comes earlier. The date of coverage will be applicable as per the original in-service date of the car. Another interesting part is that almost 600 components are covered by the warranty scheme. It is inclusive of the transmission, the drive system and the engine of the car. Only a deductible of $50/- is required for the repairs that are covered under the powertrain warranty scheme.

â€¢ Apart from the powertrain coverage, other coverages are also provided like an optional security along with Plus warranty. About 1450 components are covered in this plan and include car interiors, HVAC, body and brakes, suspension and many other important parts. This warranty is applicable for a period of either 7 years or 100,000 miles (whichever comes first) or for 8 years/120,000 miles. The best part about this coverage is that no deductible is required in the same.

Additional benefits from the used car warranty by Nissan Nissan has laid immense stress on customer service and after sale facilities of all kinds of Nissan cars. Not only that, various kinds of benefits are also provided to customers who are interested in buying used cars. Some of them are as follows:

â€¢ $100 per claim can be towed if a part that is covered by the warranty fails.

â€¢ Roadside assistance is provided for 24 hours per day for all kinds of emergency situations. These situations might include emergencies like vehicle lock-outs, dead batteries, flat tires and such situations. The car will be taken to the nearest Nissan station or the nearest dealer for repair and maintenance.

â€¢ Up to 5 days of car rental reimbursement on a covered claim.

â€¢ Up to $500 of trip interruption coverage for car breakdowns that happen at a distance of 100 miles or more from your place of residence.

Therefore it is evident that the used car warranty by Nissan is a great one and is really useful for the customers.
