Seat belt laws are to protect you in case of an accident; however, the shoulder harness can be quite uncomfortable. Do you find yourself all the time adjusting the shoulder strap as you drive? The shoulder strap can creep up and rub against your neck or tighten across your chest resulting in an irritating, and even painful, ride in the car. A seat belt adjuster moves the shoulder strap away from your neck and keeps it positioned comfortably at your shoulder. Simply snap the adjuster onto your lap belt and align the shoulder strap under the clip. Then slide it until you are comfortable.

Solve that annoying seat belt creep problem with the seat belt adjuster. This is ideal for people who are short, generously sized, or recovering from surgery. The seat belt adjuster creates proper placement of shoulder straps for older children or small adults. It makes the seatbelt safer and more comfortable for children over 80 pounds/ 4' 9" and short adults. A poorly positioned shoulder belt is unsafe and uncomfortable. Just because your child outgrows their car seat does not mean they will "fit" into adult seat belts. The seat belt adjuster makes the transition easier by positioning a vehicle's adult belts to your child's size. However, we do recommend keeping them in a booster seat until the seat belt fits correctly. It is always the safest place for them.

Sliding clip adjusts a seat belt shoulder strap off the neck and provides travel comfort for both drivers and passengers. These adjusters are now easily available online where you just have to select the best for yourself, which suits you the most. You can easily place your order online only and within a short time it will get delivered at your place.
