How Sky Revolutionised TV by Janny Walter

Article published on January 19th 2012 | Business

Sky is relatively old now and not something new to the market but is still very popular if not even more so today than it was when it was first released. It has transformed immensely since its first arrival as well, as it is now available in 3D and high definition. So you get all the pleasure of being able to choose from a wide range of channels as well as to watch it in high quality.

Sky does their best to try and give the best deals so that it is affordable for everyone, and their most popular package is that which includes broadband and one free extra HD box. The addition of the extra box is part of the package so that customers get more for their money. In addition to that the broadband that comes with the package could also be used as an incentive as the internet is for everyone and something that everyone can use. In addition to that Sky also send out someone to personally install your Sky Box for you so you have no trouble when it arrives and can start watching it straight away, instead of having to pay extra to get someone to do it for you.

As aforementioned the best thing about Sky is obviously the wide range of channels that it includes. You can get cartoon channels, movie channels from all genres, music channels from all genres and then general TV channels such as comedy, drama, soaps, etc. In addition you can get news channels, discovery channels and even channels that help teach you how to cook something or give you advice on how to cook something in a different way. Another great feature of having Sky is that it has +1 channels where you can watch something again on the same channel (which is repeated hourly) if you have missed the programme or want to see it again. Moreover, if you are lucky enough to have Sky+, you can rewind anything you have missed, fast forward bits you donâ€™t want to see and pause live TV when you donâ€™t want to miss something.

Sky protect makes sure that, as you have all these valuable products, that you can get new equipment if any of it is broken or stolen, therefore meaning that if it happens you are able to maintain the service that you enjoyed before without extra cost.
