wedding shoes are one of the most important aspects of the trousseau. But unfortunately, most of us think that it will be beneath the dress and would be hardly seen so they settle down on anything that we get. However, there are a few things that need to keep in mind if you want to pick the perfect pair.

You should always opt for the right fit. A wedding day is full of activities and it is much more than walking down the aisle. So naturally, you do not want to limp or skip across it. The shoes should be comfortable and you should be very comfortable with wearing the shoes and you can only ensure that with a perfect fit.

On the other hand, you should also see that it is beautiful. Silk and satin shoes are the most apt and there are other materials available as well for the other aspects like for the reception etc. But do not try to cram your feet into excessively small shoes just because they are pretty. Rather, opt for something sensible. In fact, it is always better to buy a pair which you can also be used afterwards, especially if it is very costly.

If your wedding is arranged according to a theme, you will have to ensure that you have ordered the shoes well in advance so that they are well managed. A last minute rush can be disastrous. Unlike a dress, which you can nip and tuck at the last minute with a safety pin, you have to very careful with respect to shoe selection.

With these few points in mind, you will be able to choose the right pair of bridal shoes for yourself and your trousseau will be the one that will be the talk of the town.
