Bangalore is a well known planned and developed south Indian city. Every year many students are coming to Bangalore from national and international place to join any reputed educational institute in here. Nursery schools in Bangalore are the base for many children to build good approach to any primary school. These schools have great arrangement of amenities to boast off. In latest news Karnataka government has also decided to involve preschools in the category of (RTE) Right to Education.

If a child is enrolled in the good primary school then they can easily understand the real importance of education in their life. All the experienced teachers in the â€˜play homeâ€™ or â€˜baby sitting schoolsâ€ performing their level best job to engage children from the age group of 2- 3 years in some creative and innovative teaching learning methods. Teachers are continuously evoking childrenâ€™s interest towards the school so that they can nonstop come to schools. The lesson plans of the play schools are involving all the cultural and sports program that showcase the hidden talents of children. The main aim of such play schools lies to develop senses and brain of the children at their early ages. Admissions to nursery schools take place in the month of February with the fees ranges from Rs 50,000 to Rs 1, 50,000 per annum in good schools.

Public schools in Bangalore are also good in demand among students from all over the world.

Theses schools are not only providing the academic and co-curricular activities but also promoting value base education to their students. The major role of recognized public school stays to foster competition, holistic learning, balance of academics and activities with child-centered moods. The good infrastructure and low students teacher ratio is another factor which should also remind to make a school as your final choice.The parents should also consider about the total quality of teachers like their academic experience , their behaviors towards parents and children and how much you as a parent would feel about their qualification and experience, talk to other parents also to get satisfaction about the schools total structure and teachers roles there. Above all a great principal will surly change the entire face of the schools with their best strategies.

International schools in Bangalore provides excellent curriculum and teaching methodology that are designed to develop independent thinking and to social and emotional skills in students. The teacher student ratio is well maintained here in the international schools so that they can provide the world class education in better ways to their students. They are adopting the college level of study styles, which means giving more stress on practical exposure of the children as compare to other schools in Bangalore.

Many international schools are also having the tie ups with foreign schools and also adopts their teaching curriculums in India to make the Indian students competent enough in global scenario. Majority of international schools are either affiliated to CBSE or IB boards of education.
