These reviews range from those talking about how this firm has helped them build successful businesses to some others that talk about how the firm has allegedly scammed them. The big question is, what is the truth? Is Wholesale Deals a reliable site or is it a fraud directory as some wholesale deals scam reports seem to suggest?

Wholesaled deals scam reports are absolutely baseless. When this firm entered into the business of directory services, it found that several supply firms were scamming traders. In order to protect the interests of small and medium retailers, the firm warned its members of such scam activities and in the process, it invited trouble for itself. Some of those firms retaliated and began posting fake wholesaled deals scams reports in order to discourage traders from registering with this directory.

Wholesale Deals is not involved in any kind of fraud. The company works in the best interests of its members. It has adequate resources to ensure that you get accurate and up-to-date information. To protect its members from scams, the directory conducts extensive research on suppliers so that only credible and legal wholesalers make it to their database.

Each and every supplier has to meet their strict eligibility requirements for getting into their wholesale lists. The firm has an efficient complaint redress system; all the issues are resolved in the least possible time and if there are any complaints against suppliers, they look into the matter seriously.

This directory offers you a huge database of suppliers from all across the world. Besides providing you information about suppliers, it keeps you updated about dropship and wholesale deals. Its "deals" section is a major attraction. At any given time, you can get information on more than 5,000 deals across different product categories. All deals are carefully picked.

Due attention is paid to the fact that the deals are profitable and their suppliers are credible. The directory not just advertises the best deals, but also does extensive research to help you figure out whether a deal is suitable for you. You get detailed information with every deal, like you get wholesale price of product, online selling price, minimum order size, and expected margins that you can earn by selling it.

Wholesale Deals has been instrumental in building a large number of successful retailing businesses. It understands that knowledge is the key to build a great business. Therefore, besides connecting traders and providing information about deals, it gives you information and useful tips on different business areas. For instance, you get to know about the most cost-effective and the latest marketing strategies, how to improve repeat sales, and how to deal with suppliers through it. It gives you industry news and informs you about trade fairs and exhibitions well ahead in time.

This firm is one of the leading names in directory services. It has a large number of registered members and it draws huge traffic everyday. The fake wholesaled deals scam reports have not been able to affect the reputation of this directory. If you are planning to use a directory service, you should consider Wholesale Deals. It provides traders with the much-needed resources for running a retailing business efficiently and effortlessly.
