How True are Wholesaledeals Scam Rumors?

by Brad Smith

Article published on April 11th 2012 | Business

Wholesale Deals is a leading B2B directory, but lately some wholesaledeals scam rumours are being seen online. Though traders who have already used the services of this firm, know what this directory stands for, such rumours have left novice traders perplexed as they are not able to decide whether they should join this directory or not. However, there is nothing to worry, as wholesaledeals scams rumours are completely baseless and have been spread with the intent to malign the image of Wholesale Deals.

Wholesale Deals began operational in 2004 with the objective of selling wholesale merchandise to small and medium retailers. After its brief stint in the wholesaling business, the firm decided to venture into directory space in order to make product sourcing easy for traders. This is how wholesaledeals.com came into being in 2008. This trade platform has been designed keeping in mind the challenges faced by traders who buy and sell products online. It is secure, safe, and free from all types of wholesale and dropship scams.

With over tens of thousands of wholesalers across various product categories, Wholesale Deals caters to all types of traders. Its wholesale lists consist of all types of suppliers including dropshippers, importers, distributors, and manufacturers. It gives you enormous choices to select appropriate product sources as per your business requirements. You can easily browse its database using sort options including product category and location. The directory has a proper screening mechanism for selecting suppliers to eliminate the risks of wholesaling and dropshipping scams.

The main attraction of wholesaledeals.com is its huge deals database, which contains thousands of live deals at anytime. What makes them different is that they have small minimum order requirements that are of hot-selling products, and they have all the information that you need for making buy decisions. You can browse deals by profit margins, product category, or keywords. You can either buy a single deal worth five pounds or a deals package.

Besides, keeping you updated about new and profitable deals and providing valuable references of verified suppliers, the directory also acts as a guide that gives you tips and ideas on establishing and operating your e-commerce business successfully. You can read articles related to trading and wholesale reviews and also get industry news and information. All the information provided is accurate, latest, and pertinent to traders.

The directory works hard to exceed the expectations of traders and calling it scam is wrong. It is sad to see how some competitors have stooped to such low levels in order to show wholesale deals in poor light. They are posting fake wholesaledeals scam reports just to damage the reputation of the directory. Since such rumours are false, you should not get intimidated and lose your chance of associating with the best wholesale directory.

Users have given thumbs up to the directory and dismissed all wholesaledeals scam rumors. According to them, if one wants to make a mark in e-commerce business, the easiest way is to join wholesaledeals.com so that he or she can access valuable resources and information to stay ahead. Wholesale Deals is a reputable directory that offers quality services at affordable prices. If you are not yet a member of this directory, visit its official website today to gain more information.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/how-true-are-wholesaledeals-scam-rumors.htm - Article

Side

Brad Smith - About Author:
Scamsters are trying to damage the image of wholesaledeals.com through fake a wholesaledeals scam reports. a wholesaledeals scams posts are works of fiction; so you should not take them seriously.

Article Keywords:
Wholesaledeals scam, Wholesaledeals scams, Wholesaledeals.co.uk scam, Wholesaledeals.co.uk scams, Wholesaledeals

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!