Improve your cash flow with invoice forms by John Davis

Article published on January 24th 2012 | Business

Custom invoices have always been an essential demand for every big to small enterprise. They are considered to be the most convenient and helpful way of keeping your cash in flow and maintaining the financial discipline of your business. The biggest advantage of custom invoices also known as invoice forms is that they let you keep the complete record of your companyâ€™s accounts and in this way you can archive your companyâ€™s record properly. These custom invoices help you in easy referencing and record keeping. These forms have been in use since a long time, but with the passage of time man has continued to introduce newest types of invoices in the market by making enhancements in the printing industry. The invoice forms are bound in a book form in order to keep them organized. These invoice books are called invoice booklets. The invoice booklets are usually printed on colored page with single black color printing.

The invoice booklets are usually bound with perforated invoice forms mostly including customerâ€™s copy and office copy. You can get your custom invoices printed as 2-part carbonless forms, 3-part carbonless forms, 4-part carbonless forms and 5-part carbonless forms. These convenient booklets are printed in customized shapes, colors and sizes suiting your requirements. The invoice booklets which are also know as custom invoice books are usually printed on 20lb carbonless paper with sequential numbering as per your requirements. The standard sizes used for the printing of invoice forms are 8.5" x 11", 8.5" x 14" and 5" x 8". You can also get them printed in customized sizes according to your business requirements. The custom invoices help you in keeping the permanent record of your payment and this is the reason why business invoice printing has always been greatly in demand.

The printing of business invoices in the past was considered to be a quite hectic task because the local offline printing companies required you to first get your invoices designed by a designer and get them printed separately. The advent of online manual printing made the entire task of invoice printing a very easy and user friendly task. They made it possible for their customers to print fully customized invoice forms conveniently by sitting on their desktop and placing order on their websites. They made the printing of all kinds of customized invoices highly economical and cheap by making use of their fully automatic printing equipment. These printing equipments required the minimum use of man power and helped in reducing the printing costs.
