Technological advances with their benefits have been passed on to the valued customers. Today you are able to get all your entertainment and communication needs through a convenient bundle. Bundling the services has its own advantages like having all the services in a comprehensive package from a single source, an easy-to-read bill that does away with hassles like having to remember due dates and having to deal with different providers for different services. Whatâ€™s more the price is great too!

The quality of the programs that you get to watch on your television is enhanced manifold. It is powered by the latest fiber optic network that gives crystal clear pictures and that amazing theater-like sound effect. So much so that you get to believe that you are in a theater watching your favorite movie, while in reality you are in the comfort of your drawing room at home. You now have access to more HD movies, fashion shows, and choice music shows that makes television viewing an all new experience. Video On Demand is feature that gives you instant access to thousands of exclusive movies and shows that can be viewed whenever you please. You could create your own library and prioritize according your taste. Besides this you also get special Pay Per View channels that are packed with latest movies and hit shows that are right there in your control to view whenever you feel like it.

The unique DVR comes to you with a host of features that will simply amaze you. You can record your favorite programs and watch them whenever convenient. The smart device even allows you to record up to 2 shows while you are watching another. With features like live pause, rewind and fast forward, there is no question of you missing even a moment of the excitement any more. You could even preset your recording preferences and allow the DVR to take over and complete the task while you are busy at work. Whatâ€™s more, you have the facility to record programs from anywhere you may be. You just need to use your computer or your smart phone for remote recording.

You will be able adjust the dayâ€™s schedule according to the programs scheduled on your TV with the help of Interactive Program Guide that gives you the schedule for the week in advance. Parental Controls have been put in position to enable you to block channels that carry adult content. You can now be sure that your kids do not have access to any such content during your absence.

High Speed Internet comes to you in various speeds and you could settle for the speed that suits your needs best. You can use it for casual browsing, sending and receiving e-mails and for chatting with select friends and family. You are also allowed to create multiple e-mail accounts that you could share with your loved ones. The option to customize the accounts as per personal preferences adds charm to the offer. For those of you who like to download the latest hit movies and large music files higher speed up to 22 Mbps is available and the time taken to complete such tasks is surprisingly very short. You could boost the speed further by opting for PowerBoost® as it helps boost speeds to desired levels. The service comes to you with a comprehensive security suite at no extra cost. You can now protect your computer against any attacks from viruses, spyware, spam and online frauds. All your user IDs and passwords are well protected. Effective parental controls prevent the children from accessing web sites that carry undesirable content.

The home phone comes to your with several useful features like caller ID, call waiting and call forwarding etc. that go a long way in helping you maintain your privacy and at the same time ensure that you never miss any important call. Important calls coming in during your absence can be conveniently forwarded to any number of your choice. Voice mail is a feature that is more like your personal answering machine. With several attractive plans for long distance and international calling the home phone is quite indispensable.
