Integra specialists in implementing Agresso Systems by James Blee

Article published on July 20th 2012 | Business

Innovative in their ability to transform the way in which businesses structure their operations, Agresso systems are a new generation of enterprise resource planning (ERP) solutions.

Unlike other ERP solutions, Agresso systems allow business to re-code before their changes are implemented. Allowing companies to adapt quickly to changes, Agresso systems are able to be fully integrated into existing systems no matter your requirements.

Specialising in providing the latest Agresso systems, Integra are a company who pride themselves on their wealth of experience within the sector and strive to provide businesses with a flexible, easily implementable solution. As the UKâ€™s largest independent Agresso consulting practice their range of services is unique in its breadth and scope.

Featuring some of the latest VITA functionality, Agresso Systems are able to provide you with a number of core business functions that include accounting, procurement procedures, HR and payroll, field asset management as well as reporting and analytics.

With over 15 years of experience in implementing Agresso systems, Integra are well placed to ensure that your current Agresso systems are operating smoothly.

Providing training for all their Agresso systems, Integra ensure that their clients are able to get to grips easily and effectively with their new software, tailoring their training to specific business needs. With post-training for their Agresso systems, Integra ensure that users retain their Agresso systems knowledge by reinforcing the more complex issues and specialist processes.

In addition to their Agresso systems, Integra also specialise in areas of project management, helping business gain the confidence necessary to engage their workforce and sponsors and work effectively with good communication and co-operative working relationships.
