In the modern world, the time demands staying connected with friends and family from the plane. They are always on roaming to various business related purpose and when they need to connect and make local or international calls, or even check their mails they use their smart phones to be connected. While doing this many of us have faced one big problem, which is paying a hefty amount of phone bills. Therefore, it is high time now to check on things and implements plans that will be helpful to us for the greater run.

Here are a few basic but very important tips that will help you to stay connected to your clients and home in a very cost effective solution.

Get an international phone rental plan or get international sim cards. International phone rental plans offer the solution of getting cheap international calling plans and a phone in rent, which is much cheaper when it comes to comparing with international roaming charges. If you donâ€™t find that suitable and you business involves too much of travel then international sim cards will be the best cost effective and reliable solution where you do not need to rent and can control you expenses.

Upgrade your normal phone to a GSM enabled Smartphone that has a Wi-Fi service. This will help you to turn off your data charges when you are in hotspot areas. You can then easily hook up with networks and enjoy the free facilities.

Add your international sim cards numbers to your business card; this will help people to contact you in the correct number thus saving you from unnecessary incoming charges.

Make necessary changes to your voicemail number while travelling and save a lot of money.

Follow these basic tips and you will surely enjoy staying in touch with your people at a very reasonable monthly budget.
