Learn More About the Greatest Actress in Canada, Sabine Mondestin by Janis Buchanan

Article published on February 23rd 2012 | Business

Truly an up-and-coming Star, Sabine Mondestin has it all when it comes to acting, writing, producing and directing. She is not only a star in the increasingly popular "13 Witches", but she is incredibly intelligent, beautiful and is an established actor. See started acting at the age of nine, where she grew up in MontrÃ©al, QuÃ©bec, Canada. She was able to get a variety of different parts at a time, but she really became a star when she landed the role of Cleopatra, in which she played through four different productions. Her Celebrity continued, when she won a writing and speech contest at 15. She was representing Canada, with her own story called "It's My Dream". When she was 17, she actually won a prize from the National Board of Canada, which in MontrÃ©al is called the Office National du Film. She won this incredible prize for an original fiction story that she wrote herself, and called it "10 Seconds before I Die". What is even more exciting is this incredible celebrity has not been an unknown and just bursting onto the scene; she has actually won many other speech and writing contests in her life.

What is even more incredible about Sabine Mondestin is that even when she was young she was part of Amnesty International. This is such an incredible thing for any young person, and Sabine was dedicated to Amnesty International from the time she was 12 until she went to college. It was amazing, because she put her passion for universal justice to work, when she was actually able to take over for Amnesty International for a long time. She then entered the University of MontrÃ©al, and graduated with a degree in communication. Then, she went off to the private school PRoMEDIA, where she focused on journalism and broadcasting. It does not end there, because she was also a host of the incredibly popular show that was called Noir de Monde, and was even a movie critic for three years. All this time, she was even hosting a radio show that talked about politics, and was writing articles for a number of newspapers.

All of this incredulity gets better, because she even went back to an acting career, and got a recurring role in a great French-Canadian television show. She even starred in a number of Canadian commercials, and had many different modeling jobs. Although this is not surprising, because she is incredibly beautiful, but she just proves that you can be beautiful and smart, all at the same time. Currently, Sabine Mondestin lives in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, where she has additional acting parts. One is where she is Cliff's wife in the movie Frankie and Alice, which is particularly exciting, because it also stars Halle Berry. Hollywood had better look out, because Sabine Mondestin is on her way to becoming the next great movie star of our time. She combines extraordinary beauty, brains, education and much more, which is truly a force to be reckoned with, as she does not show any signs of stopping.
