Article published on April 2nd 2012 | Business

If you regularly visit Stuttgart on official duty and you are often looking to stay in a place that is more of a home rather than a temporary lodging then you may want to try out the serviced apartments that this city has to offer. There are plenty of apartments in the downtown area and where you will be close to Stuttgartâ€™s business hub and recreational areas such as bars and restaurants and the nightlife of the city. The other apartments are located in the leafy suburbs tucked away from all the hustles and bustles of town life. Nearly every serviced apartment Stuttgart is larger than the conventional hotel room and has a separate bathroom and kitchen. The only exception is the studio type apartment whereby only the bathroom is separate.

A typical serviced apartment Stuttgart features adequate space enough for you to host a number of friends or even clients. There is also the provision of amenities such as Wi-Fi and a laundry service, and some of them also offer airport transfers and rental car services. These are homely abodes where you can enjoy your freedom and privacy in an apartment replete with flat TV, lavish beds, and premium furniture and cutlery, and where room services such as cleaning are also provided. A point to note is that virtually all serviced apartment Stuttgart has to offer can only be rented for stays of more than a single night. This means that an overnight stay will be best accommodated in a hotel room.

As noted earlier, the downtown apartments are located near restaurants with large breakfast areas, and where you can therefore enjoy a hearty first meal of the day early in the morning. In the suburbs you are guaranteed to find a neighborhood store from where you can buy fresh bread or croissants and milk and thus prepare your breakfast. These apartments are also in close proximity to all the attractions that this magnificent city has to offer, whether it is the nightlife, museums, parks, monuments, and so forth. All these are readily accessible and therefore you can sparkle up your weekends and free days with fun and pleasure activities.

Compared to hotel rooms these apartments in Stuttgart provide a more personal feel where travelers live rather than just stay. Guests get to save money thanks to the in-house kitchenettes and therefore they do not need to eat out on every given day or place orders for the usually expensive food that hotels offer. Renting a serviced apartment Stuttgart is also a nice idea especially during relocation, and which is always a hectic time that can also be disorienting. An apartment with the aforementioned amenities will help to ease the adaptation process and serve as a functional base while you are looking for a permanent residence.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/living-in-a-serviced-apartment-stuttgart.htm - Article Side

Kalvebod Brygge - About Author:
For more information about a serviced apartment Stuttgart Please visit a http://www.ptm-hotelsandhousing.com/

Article Keywords:
serviced apartment Stuttgart

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!