Package All Earns NSF International Certification by Package All

Article published on January 17th 2012 | Business

Package All is a packaging distributor that is committed to making industrial packaging easier for businesses by saving time, money and storage space. Businesses constantly struggle to minimize costs and time spent on storing and warehousing packaging material. Package All offers direct packaging solutions by saving companies money spent on packaging inventory and offering to ship out all the packaging materials exactly when they are needed, allowing them to channelize that money on revenue generating activities instead.

Package All has recently been granted the NSF certification which goes to highlight the companyâ€™s Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs), as outlined by U.S. FDA. These stipulate highest quality safety and contamination-free standards for processes by which supplements are produced. So when NSF grants this certification, it takes into perspective all facets of distribution - from product traceability to facility and vehicle maintenance to employee training. Furthermore, NSF conducts yearly audits of the facilities to verify ongoing compliance.

The company was founded in 1984 with its headquarters in Bayport, New York. It has three state-of-the-art distribution centers located in New York on the East Coast and Fontana, California in the West. It is now a forerunning stocking and packaging distributor in the pharmaceutical and nutraceutical industries.

They stock a wide array of packaging products and packaging solutions to cater to the varying needs of businesses everywhere. From rigid packaging, like containers, bottles, and caps, to cotton and desiccants to mention just a few - Package All has industrial packaging covered from end to end.

Armed with an experienced team of experts, efficient systems in place to scan, code, electronically managed order-picking, and GPS-managed fleet operations, customers have come to rely on Package All as a universal packaging supplier a one-stop-shop with all packaging solutions under one umbrella. Offering an impeccable and friendly customer service, flexibility and great value for money, Package All is fast becoming a force to be reckoned with in the US packaging industry.
