Precautions to be taken before undertaking wax by Cameron White

Article published on July 19th 2012 | Business

Waxing in San Diego is adopted widely as the best method for semi permanent hair removal treatments. It is the best way to get rid of all the unwanted hairs and get that soft and clean skin. This method is increasingly being undertaken both by males and females today. It has now become the fashion trend to have a clean and hair free body by both the genders.

Body waxing is a hair removal method that lasts longer than any other hair removal method like shaving, plucking or trimming and gives an extremely smooth feel and glow to the skin. Because the hair is completely ripped out of the follicles, there is no hair breakout until the hair begins growing again and gets long enough to come out from the skin. Unlike shaving and other methods, this gives you more weeks of hair free skin. This method is very safe on skin as the wax moisturizes the skin when hairs are being taken out from the skin thus leaving a smooth and clean body.

Waxing in San Diego can be troublesome to many as the pain experienced from the procedure can be much. But undertaking the wax by a professional hand and at the clean and hygiene maintained Waxing salon in San Diego will lessen much of your pain. But make sure that your skin is suitable to undertake the treatment before the procedure. If you're ever unsure about waxing for any reason, always do a patch test first. Taking the necessary precautions before going for a waxing salon in San Diego can give you hassle free experience.

Waxing precautions and warnings if neglected could leave your skin extremely red, burned or scabby and cause discomfort for you:

â€¢ Do not wax on sunburned or irritated skin. Apply moisturizer to make your skin smooth and supple before going for a wax.

â€¢ Do not wax at least 2 days before you are to have a chemical peel or 7 days afterward.

â€¢ Try to make appointments either at least a week before or after your period, as you are often more sensitive around this time for skin treatments.

â€¢ Do not use deodorant at least 24 hours after an underarm wax as it may cause allergy or rash to your skin.

â€¢ Do not take a hot bath or swim in the pool for 24 hours after a treatment.

â€¢ Do not wax if you recently drank a lot of caffeine or alcohol as this can cause skin to be extra sensitive to waxing, resulting you could get more red or inflamed skin than usual. Give yourself a couple hours after drinking coffee or alcohol before getting waxed.

â€¢ Avoid waxing if you're having dermabrasion services or have undertaken them in the past three months.

â€¢ Say no to wax if you are pregnant, take birth control, hormone replacement or antibiotics. Your skin may be more sensitive to the procedure in such cases, so it's best to have a patch test and see how your skin reacts for 24 hours.

â€¢ Do not wax the same day you have been in a tanning booth & not tan at least 2 days after being waxed.

â€¢ Do not exfoliate the day before your treatment.

Taking an account of all the precautions will make your waxing experience a pain free one. You will experience the smooth and clean skin without causing much pain to yourself. Also, look for a salon that cares for your hygiene in addition of just providing skin care treatments. For more information visit http://www.vivabrazilsd.com
