Article published on July 25th 2012 | Business

castors â€“ supporting weights and moving them omni-directionally, castors are now available in a fantastic array of sizes, types and strengths, each individually manufactured for the specific requirements of the materials they support. Amazing really when you think about it. Sort of.

Specialising in the manufacturing of castors, Priory Castor are a company who pride themselves on their ability to produce some of the most hard-working, reliable and high quality castors on the market today.

Based in the West Midlands, Priory Castors have been working in the industry since 1938 and are renowned as being one of the leaders in their field, with innovative designs and quality materials used in the production of all their items.

Included in their range of castors are castors designed specifically for various janitorial or trolley equipment, with the ballrace peg cators featuring a load capacity of 25 â€“ 55kg. For those looking for castors suitable for more industrial applications, the Industrial Plate features a load capacity of an impressive 295kg, perfect for those otherwise barely mobile pieces that you need to move easily, quickly and, importantly, safely.

Working to best meet the most common castor requirements, the range of castors from Priory Castor is one of the most extensive around, so check out their online catalogue for their full product list.

Canâ€™t find a castor for your specific requirements? Donâ€™t worry. With the in-house design from Pri Castor, youâ€™re able to have castors made especially for you, manufactured to the same high standards of design and quality that their official range of castors has. Utilising some of the latest in CAD technology, their expert design team are well placed to ensure that you have the castors you need when you need them, getting to work quickly and working with you through the design process to fully understand your requirements.

To find out more about the castors from Priory Castor, visit them online today and make sure you have the right castors for your specific requirements.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/priory-castor-quality-castors-built-to-last.htm - Article Side

James Blee - About Author:
When you need a castors, you need Priory Castor. They are a manufacturer of a Castor Wheels with products for everything from tables to pianos!

Article Keywords:
Castor Wheels,Castor

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!