We understand that it can be stressful and we want to make this part of your transport as easy as possible. At Freight Guru, we set the standard for freight shipping services. Our professional team and valued customer service provides you the confidence and the peace of mind that you deserve.

Types of Freight Transport Services

Freight Guru's freight transport services include a variety of services at affordable prices, utilizing the modern equipment necessary to get the job done. The haulage, transport and storage service we provide incorporate the following: Modern fleet of Lorries, Low Loaders and Plant Lorries, Flat Bed Artics, Guaranteed on-time Deliveries and Return Loads to name a few.

Quality and Dependable Freight Transport Services

The advent of new Technologies and Transport Telematics, as well as the realization of the true position of Freight Transport within the overall production - distribution and supply chain management process has now produced a new vision for Freight Transport Services that incorporates traditional approach, but is, in addition:

Providing users with "complete" - "package" solutions that cover their requirements for high quality end-to-end services;

Stimulated by competition and new technological possibilities which open up new services for the users;

Cost efficient not only for the users but also for the operators (who are currently mostly losing money on the new types of services they have to provide);

Fully interactive (i.e. integrated) with the emerging Intelligent Transport Systems (ITS) in Europe, including real time traffic as well as freight transport related systems;

Reliable and (travel or delivery) time sensitive:

Performed with vehicles that are energy and environmentally efficient;

Achieves maximum optimization and efficiency across the whole logistics chain (as opposed to optimization of individual process steps)

How long will it take my Freight material to get picked up?

If you need us to pick it up at your door or business A.S.A.P, then it takes up to 5 days (usually sooner). We call you in advance to let you know the exact pick-up date and time. Once picked-up Delivery dates vary by distance. For example once your cargo is picked up in New York it will arrive in California (coast to coast) in about 5-10 days. However, delivery to a shorter distance such as Florida from New York would be only 2-3 days. If you need quicker pick-up/delivery then there is an additional cost involved to guarantee your pickup on a more narrowed time frame.

What are the key factors that businesses consider as important when selecting transport modes and transport service providers?

The top five factors respondents considered the most important while opting for Freight Transport Services were:

the cost of service provision reliability of delivery

flexibility

freight safety and security

customer service
