For many adults, itâ€™s great fun reliving pursuits from our childhood. Roller skates are a fantastic way to recapture your youth..and get fit at the same time!

Roller skates have been a popular hobby for children for many years, with new styles and variations being developed over the past years. The 1980s and 90s saw roller blades begin to overtake the standard four wheel roller skates in popularity, and recent years have seen sales of heel skates soar. Roller skates it appears, in one guise or another, are here to stay!

Buying a pair of roller skates is a great way for adults to get fit, have fun and bond with their children. While your children zip about on roller blades or heel skates, you can relive the joys of your own childhood with a brand new pair of roller skates. Your children will be amazed when you showcase some of the moves you used to pull on your roller skates as a child! Roller skates are an activity the whole family can enjoy â€“ theyâ€™re great for keeping fit and make a change from bike riding or walking. If youâ€™re a little nervous on your new Roller skates, get your kids to show you a few moves.

As well as deciding between the style of roller skates you prefer, you and your children can also choose the colour and design of your roller skates. Your children may want roller skates which feature their favourite TV or book character; you may choose roller skates with a retro twist. Roller skates are available in the traditional boot style or you may prefer roller skates that look similar to a shoe, although be aware that these may offer less support for ankles.
