What a man would become if the vital force that is running all inside his body is suddenly switched off. Well! The answer is very simple, the man would simply die. And something similar has happened in the world of economy. The only difference is that till now the world of economy was governing the financial systems without the vitality itself. And how come such a system survived for so long is really a mystery itself. But the ominous signs had been continually becoming evident every now and which the experts in the field just could not see or simply were not prepared to see. But one man who goes by the name of Roger James Hamilton realized that if the present economic system is not really producing the results that it should have been producing then the lack of vital force is responsible for that.

But Roger James Hamilton just did not stop there. He was simply not satisfied by the fact that the pointing out the lacuna is good enough. He went a step further and delved deeper into the reasons for the failure of the system as well as he did an in depth study in finding out that vital force that was missing in the current economic system. And what he found was really surprising, bewildering as well as enchanting. That missing link in the present system of wealth creation was the life itself. And when he said â€˜lifeâ€™ he meant Mother Nature itself.

And the surprising fact was that how come a thing that is governing each and everything in what we call existence could be left missing in something that is as important as the creation of wealth. And Roger James Hamilton began by inculcating the flow of nature in his own efforts of wealth creation. When he found success there he went on to guide other people on the same path. And he did that by devising and creating the number of theories like the wealth dynamics as well as the wealth spectrum that clearly spelt the ways and means of inculcating Nature in the individualâ€™s efforts towards wealth creation.

And the theories that he has formulated have really benefited millions of people around the globe. And these millions of people are now further spreading the message of Roger James Hamilton. And that message is really spreading far and wide and is enriching the lives of millions others who till now were lurking in the darkness.
