Seating types and its arrangement by Patrick

Article published on February 17th 2012 | Business

Plenty of things have to be taken into consideration before one purchases chair for the auditorium. Needless to say, all types of chair do not fit all auditoriums however if you do not use the right chair it can cause unwanted problems. One has to consider various things before purchasing seats for any auditorium.

Here below we will discuss some of the points which have to be taken into consideration while choosing the right chair.

(A)Acoustic property

First thing which has to be taken into consideration is the acoustic property. Complete auditorium will lose its glory if the auditorium contains any poor acoustic material. For instance, chairs made out from poor acoustic material can cause unwanted side effects and cause poor audio effects. It is advisable to have chairs with good acoustic quality so that audio properties do not get affected at any time.

(B)Seat spacing

Auditorium chair must be comfortable to sit and it must have equal spaces between chairs so that sitting for a long time does not make one feel tired. If there is no proper space between chairs one has to sit crumpled for long time but leaving right amount of space makes one to sit comfortably.

There are different types of seating arrangements and everything differs from one another.

Bleacher seating

Bleacher seating is good for sports venues especially for basket ball events or for any sports function. There are special types of bleach chair which can be removed when they are not used.

Lecture theatre seating

Lecture theatre seating best fit any classrooms and conference halls. It has special writing ledge which can be used while writing and folded whenever needed. These lecture theatre seating chairs are not only stylish but are also comfortable to sit. There is always a high demand for this type of chairs in educational institutions.

Theatre seating

Theatre seats must have generous space and a chair without arm must have space of less than 450 mm and chair with arm must have space around 490mm. Multicolored fabrics can be used for seats as it can create an attractive environment and enhance the overall appearance.

Fold down chairs

There are special fold down chairs which can be completely folded when they are not in use. Maximum flexibility is offered by these chairs which mean the writing surface can be completely folded when not in use. It has ample space which means one can sit comfortable and perform any work without difficulty.
