Article published on December 6th 2011 | Business

Dream of a mud-free paddock this winter? Stall Skins is the solution!

No more using rubber stable mats or horse stall mats in a valiant effort to keep paddocks free of mud. Stall Skins, the permeable stall flooring solution, can be used in an outdoor paddock to keep the area mud-free. How? Moisture from rain and urine drain through to a base underneath the Stall Skins paddock liner (unlike rubber stable mats and horse stall mats), and the Stall Skins act as a dirt barrier, keeping the area mud-free. No more disappearing stable mats and horse stall mats that sink into the mud!

Stall Skins, the perfect alternative to rubber stall mats and stable mats, are easy to install, save on bedding, are easier to clean than conventional rubber mats or stall mats, and cost about 50% less than rubber stable mats or horse stall mats. And if youâ€™re tired of cleaning off a muddy horse when he comes in from the paddock, Stall Skins are the perfect solution â€” during the rainy season, outdoor paddocks with Stall Skins linings remain mud-free. That certainly never happens with regular stable mats, rubber stable mats or horse stall mats!

When properly installed in the paddock, Stall Skins wonâ€™t shift, and the water and urine drain straight through to the drainage material placed under the Stall Skins â€” a big difference from rubber stable mats and horse stall mats.

So this winter, donâ€™t wring your hands in frustration over a muddy paddock and then try to patch it together with stable mats or horse stall mats. Put Stall Skins in both the paddock and stall to keep your horse mud-free and comfortable. Stall Skins in the horseâ€™s stall will keep ammonia fumes to a minimum, save you significant cleaning time, reduce the cost of bedding, and keep bedding as dry as possible.

Stall Skins has been providing horse people a superior and cost-effective alternative to rubber stable mats and horse stall mats for over 15 years. This winter, itâ€™s Stall Skins for lining your paddocks and as a superior flooring solution for your stalls.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/stall-skins-is-the-answer-to-mud-free-paddocks.htm - Article Side

Justinkenyon - About Author:
Stall Skins has been providing a superior and economical alternative to a rubber stall mats for over 14 years. For more details on a Stable Mats and a Stall Mats than please visit our website.

Article Keywords:
Rubber Stable Mats, Stable Mats, Stall Mats

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!