The Designer Range of Bathroom Towels by Julia Roger

Article published on May 17th 2012 | Business

Bathroom towels are required by everyone may be in different forms. Like some people may use a bath towel, which just serves the purpose, some may go in for customized, designer bathroom towels . The purpose is same in all the case to dry the body after a bath.

The invention of bath towels can be attributed to Bursa in Turkey and the Turkish towels have good market even today. The towels come in different variety, ranges and makes. However, those made up of pure cotton are best as they will be soft and absorb water quickly. The towels are a piece of cloth, usually made of cotton fabric in a rectangular. The sizes vary widely and there are plenty of color choices and design choices. With the improvements in the travel industry and travel industry gaining momentum, the requirement of bathroom towels has also gone up.

They are necessary in a hotel industry, as every room should have a set of bath towels and a set of hand towels. Considering the large number of rooms and the number of hotels, the estimated requirement of bath towel is very huge. Hotels will also have designer towels sometimes with their logos to make them attractive. This also serves another purpose that the towels will not be taken by any clients either by mistake or intentionally. Washing of the bath towels in a restaurant also is a big industry, as they have to be maintained very neatly. The latest additions to the family of bath towels are the Luxurious organic bamboo bath towels. These are made up of 70% Viscose from Bamboo and 30% organic cotton. This material has good absorption capacity, very soft and quick drying features.

Whatever may be the design, cost or quality, bathroom towels are the need of everyone. The demand for the bath towels can never diminish.
