The Major Pluses of Getting to Experience Catering Accommodation in Zimbali by Tracy Narvaez

Article published on June 8th 2012 | Business

Catering accommodation in Zimbali is amongst South Africa's top luxury options for your holiday. On the continent's eastern seaboard north of Durban, it crowns the stunning Dolphin Coast in KwaZulu-Natal region. Only 600 kilometres from Johannesburg and thirty miles from Durban, Zimbali offers you self-catering vacations that few resorts can compare with and offers just about anything you could ever ask for and even some things you didn't know about.

Hiring your Zimbali beach house, chalet or villa will see you on the edge of wonderful warm seas, virgin forests and great beaches with first class recreational facilities that are second to none. This can be your own little piece of utter luxury in this safe, prestigious locale. The forest area of this private estate affords refreshing shade in these whispering pines and utter seclusion from all bustle and hustle.

This subtropical ocean side paradise is really abundant with exotic wildlife. Birdsong greets you, and you're bound to see the cheeky monkeys who play around the villas. Antelope are more shy, but you can see them on hiking trails through virgin forests. This indigenous woodland is full of flowers, lush green vegetation and butterflies.

The Indian Ocean's warm shallow sea and breezes make this a perfect beach land with palms and golden sand, though this is not a sea swimming area. Self-catering chalets are available overlooking seas and sunsets, on pristine sands. When you want to swim, head for the pools. Five pools include family and child friendly swimming pools plus infinity pools on the ocean. There's plenty of choice for all to splash in. Or, take your picnic to the lake.

When you need a slice of town life, food supplies and entertainment, Ballito - a renowned, great little holiday town - is less than ten minutes away on foot or by car. Then, you could head to Umhlaga Rocks or Gateway Mall: an enormous shopping and entertainment mall, only fifteen miles away. King Shaka International Airport is about the same distance. So, Zimbali lets you escape civilization but access it when you want.

For keen golfers, a golf course of championship level, designed by award-winning Tom Weiskopf, provides eighteen perfect holes and a par 72. The rolling greens and fairways lie between the forests and some opulent holiday homes. Enjoy the country club with bar, or have a game of squash or tennis on excellent courts. Another course, envisioned by Gary Player is now under development.

You can also head out on the ocean for deep sea fishing, spotting dolphins, snorkeling and scuba diving. There are exercise and recreation opportunities galore. When you want to truly relax, there is a private health club and spa to indulge and refresh your senses. Take a hot stone massage, a facial, manicure or pedicure from qualified therapists.

Catering accommodation in Zimbali makes the idea getaway for golfers, families, weddings and couples. It's perfect for honeymoons and anniversaries. Self catering chalets and villas let you to take your vacation at your pace and price bracket. Take a private and luxurious, restful break at Zimbali on South Africa's Dolphin Coast.
