Use Free WordPress Themes to Get the Start You Need for Your Blogs by Elissa Joyce

Article published on January 12th 2012 | Business

If youâ€™re good at writing and love to write, you could actually begin to make some money from writing about things that are of interest to you. How would you be able to do this? The answer is in having a blog, and one of the best ways to get you on your way is by starting with a WordPress blog. Most of the persons today with blogs are using this platform to earn some extra income or even a monthly salary and you could be doing the same. However, it will take some amount of patience, determination and perseverance.

What is WorPress

WordPress is currently the most popular platform used by bloggers looking for a free template and hosting site for their blog. Nevertheless, the software can also be used on other domain sites to create websites and blogs and also give persons more options to make money. WordPress is basically a free blog platform that persons can use to create blogs, websites or just about anything they choose. The setup is so simple that even an amateur should be able to use it. At the same time, it also has the potential to be made into complicated designs by an experienced web designer.

The Basic Design : WordPress is basically designed with a blog format having a simple text box in which persons can write their blog posts. However, this text box has many options that persons can use to get different effects like bold, font, linking to outside text and so on. There are also plug-ins which can be used to customize a personâ€™s site and make it more unique. Basically, with this software and options you can do and create just about anything.

The Themes : The themes provided by WordPress are many and varied. There are also free WordPress themes which can be found as very simple designs, while some can be found which are more complicated. These are of course very advantageous as persons can use these directly to set up their own websites, or further customize them. However, the fact that they are free means money saved and a lower start up cost for beginning bloggers.

Hosting : When using WordPress, you can choose to either have your blog hosted by WordPress main site or on another domain. Using the main site is free but you will need to abide by a few rules, such as, you will not be able to use things like Adsense for advertising on your blogs. This method is therefore more suited for non-profit blogs even though there are still ways in which you can use this to make some cash. If you really want to know how to make money using this method it may be best to use a different domain. Most domains now include WordPress and so setting up your website will still be very simple once you choose to use This software.

You can therefore begin thinking about your area of interest that you would like to blog about and begin making your jottings to start this money making venture. While this method can be used to make money, itâ€™s not a get rich quick scheme and so you will have to stick to it to see it become profitable.
