Lights create ambiences. These not only light up the surroundings but also light them in style and as per the requirements. From the dim lights of a fine dining restaurant to the wonderful lighting of the entertainment shows, lights play an important part in giving a specific desired ambience to the surroundings. While some of the commonly used lights could be available in the store next door, the ones which are more trendy and crafty are carried by special lighting stores. The different shapes and sizes of these lights featured in the stores can be suited to any occasion and space. These can be used on the walls and ceilings or even as standalone ones. These are also fixed or placed on the ground. Floor lamps are used for lighting different spaces, which could be:

1. Monuments and the architectures of historical importance: The floor lamps, which are used for focusing the lights on these structures, are essentially meant for lighting these spaces without causing them harm due to heat. So, these are placed at appropriate distance. The special lights have particular extent of diffused lighting to light up specified areas of monuments.

2. To light the pathways: Whether it is some place or the public place like park, floor lamps are used for decorative purposes as well as for lighting the pathways to aid walking. The low intensity LED light of these lamps could also be put on the ground to light the small stretches of pathways where the pole lighting is not present. The essential purpose of using these is for decoration.

3. Place of entertainment (music and dance): You must have seen the discotheques using these floor lamps of different colors. With suitable controls, the different shades of lights can come up from these lamps for lighting the dance floor. Similarly, concerts or other similar shows can also make use of these lights.

4. Shows and exhibitions: From the catwalk fashion shows to the artifacts kept in the museum, there are many such instances where the floor lamps are used to good measure. These enable seeing in greater clarity of the lights.

The lights from floor are focused on areas which are to be lit for making them look awesome. These are used for decorative purposes as well as for reaching out to those parts where the lights from top are not able to reach.

Depending upon the purpose for which you need the lights, you can select the lamp shades of your choice from the lighting stores. However, for the special occasions, the event management companies do make a calculation of the how many lights from what all angles can be used for creating a particular impact. These inevitably involve making use of the floor lamps as well. However, the caution shall still be taken on using these so that the people moving around do not get hurt. This requires careful placements or fixtures which do not interrupt with the movements of the people.
