When Buying a BlackBerry Enterprise Server: the Elements to Think About by Samantha Cole

Article published on March 9th 2012 | Business

You may have already checked out the BlackBerry Enterprise Server (BES) Client Access Licenses (CALS) and found out about the advantages these offer to businesses. Perhaps you're asking yourself how this is feasible. Nevertheless, though the BES software's functions are alien to you, what matters most to you as a user is the authenticity of the software.

Legitimacy of BlackBerry Enterprise Server Client Access License Software. BlackBerry CAL software will not usually work unless they 1) are legitimized by the servers that belong to the manufacturer, or 2) include the needed Blackberry licenses. Once you've verified these two items, then you can be assured that the software you bought is legit.

When you have chosen to buy BES software, a BES company have the ability to put your order quickly and send you the item electronically within one day to your BlackBerry. Some companies can yield much faster than that, but will obligate that you advise them if it is a rush order. Additionally, there are also BES providers that allow purchase order where payment can be made at a later period.

The Number of Licenses You Need to Buy. Nonetheless, identify BES companies that demand you to purchase a minimum number of licenses. Before you know it, you turn out getting more CALs than you or your business actually demands. It's much better to look for a BES CAL company that will permit you to get just those licenses needed, and then allow you to improve to a greater number of licenses should you decide to do so in the future. Basically, find a provider that won't give you any justification to shell out more than necessary.

Installation and Support. Setting up BES CAL is relatively a breeze contrasted to a lot of other server software. For the most part, the server installation is automatic. Some companies supply complete installation services which can be done remotely. No matter what the size of your business enterprise, this can save you from a lot of stress-induced headaches. Most BlackBerry Enterprise companies can guarantee that your server software will be up and working on the same day.

Trial Editions Online. There are server CAL companies that offer you a 30 - to 60-day trial version of their server software. This allows you to see if the IT department of your business can actually benefit from it. Downloading the trial version is as easy as a click of a button on their official websites.
