Wholesaledeals Scam-Know the Facts by Brad Smith

Article published on February 15th 2012 | Business

Are you worried about wholesaledeals scam reports? Have you put your decision to register with this directory on hold due to such rumors? If yes, then it is important for you to know that wholesaledeals scam rumors are not backed by evidence. They are completely false. Some competitors who are unhappy with the success of wholesaledeals.co.uk are trying to show this directory in bad light.

Wholesale Deals started directory services in 2008. Since its inception, not only has it made it easy for people to step into e-commerce business and build profitable ventures, but it also has brought to light certain scam firms that were ripping off innocent traders. Because of this, some unfair competitors and supply firms are collectively working toward building a negative image of this directory. They are posting fake reviews and feedback at various websites, posing as real users in attempts to mislead traders.

The directory believes in providing the best services at affordable costs. Its main objective is to make online reselling easy and profitable for small and medium retailers who have few resources for venturing into markets. It provides them with valuable information, research data, useful tools, and industry news, thus preparing them for the e-commerce industry.

If you ask traders what the hardest part of online reselling is, probably most of them would refer to getting access to reliable and profitable products sources. Though, with the Internet, it has become easy to get a vast amount of information, it is difficult to decide if the information is accurate and trustworthy or not. Therefore, when it comes to finding wholesale sources, traders often get confused where to get information. However, with Wholesale Deals, you have nothing to fear. It contains a database of over 90,000 wholesalers including suppliers, dropshippers, importers, and distributors. All suppliers in its lists are verified. The listed suppliers have fair business practices and high governance standards. You can do business with them without worrying about wholesale and dropship scams.

The directory gives you access to the most profitable deals. You can buy products at up to 95 percent discounts. These deals are not for just any products; they are for hot-selling products that are already selling successfully on Amazon and eBay. You can sell them at up to 20 times the price you buy. The best part is that, with each and every deal, you get key information, like average wholesale price, online selling price, and minimum order quantity, which saves you from time-consuming and costly research.

Wholesale Deals is a fair company. It gives you a money-back guarantee on every single deal that costs just five pounds. It provides you only verified information and data. It has a reasonable subscription fee. You can buy their classic subscription package starting from 14.99 pounds.

The directory is one of the best in wholesale industry. All wholesaledeals scam rumors are wrong. If you take feedback from real users, you will realize how useful the directory is and that it is not involved in any kind of fraud. Whether you want suppliers for your products, or profitable products that could help you grow your profits, or information about the e-commerce industry and online reselling, you should register with wholesaledeals.co.uk.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/wholesaledeals-scam-know-the-facts.htm - Article Side

Brad Smith - About Author:
Do not trust a wholesaledeals scam rumors as they have been spread by elements that want to ruin the online image of this directory. a wholesaledeals scams reports are fictitious.

Article Keywords:
wholesaledeals scam, wholesaledeals scams, wholesaledeals

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!