If you are changing your present address or shifting to a new country, it is necessary for you to carry some legal documents. But how will you make people believe that the documents you are carrying are not fake? Hence you need to avail notary public service. Look for service providers who can meet all your notarization needs and notarize your residential, business and legal documents.

Always go for a local notary so that you can catch him or her whenever needed. For example if you live in Canada, you should go for a notary in Canada. Make sure you hire someone with relevant experience. The person you hire should have completed special background screening. The person should have completed compliance training for Gramm-Leach-Bliley Financial Services Modernization Act as well. Having knowledge about this federal law is absolutely necessary for someone who offers mobile notary services.

Before you hire a notary you should be aware of the services you can expect from a professional. The services are listed below.

- * Authentication & Legalization
- * Limited Power of Attorney
- * Durable Power of Attorney
- * Certifications
- * Apostille services
- * Adoptions
- * Jurats
- * Acknowledgements
- * Notarized Affidavit
- * Deeds of Trust
- * Real estate documents
- * Advanced healthcare Directives
- * Quick claim deeds
- * Loan documents

Notaries simply notarize the documents and ensure that the documents are original. While you sign a document, a notary certifies that the statements being made are true. But a notary does not take your affirmation or oath. This is done by the Commission of Oath. Hence when you look for a notary in Canada you should also look for a Commissioner of Oaths Canada.

Notaries have much more authority than commissioners. A notary not only certifies original documents but can also certify copies of documents. Commissioners can simply commission documents but notaries can notarize affidavits or statutory declarations for filing throughout the globe. When a document comes with notary public authentication it is accepted all over the world. But commissioners can only commission documents that are being filed within the Province where the commission is appointed.

Whenever you prepare a document, make sure you seek help from an experienced notary. He or she will help you with all your document signing requirements. Having a notary on your side is beneficial because he or she will ensure that your documents don't violate the federal or state law.

Finding a notarized notary public should not be a difficult task for you because there are several professionals working in Canada. Since notaries are in high demand today, it is better for you to start looking for a notary when you have time in hand to avoid last minute hassle.
