There is more than one option available for getting CPA CPE credits. Among the popular continuing education program formats, online self-study programs are enjoying growing popularity. These online CPE courses for CPAs are gaining popularity because they offer immense flexibility, allowing CPAs to complete the courses at their own pace and on their own schedule. There are many different online providers of CPE for CPA, but it is always advisable to do some comparison shopping and study the features and functionalities each provider is offering. Make sure that you compare the course material and the cost of these courses to receive best possible online CPE training.

While it is necessary for CPAs to take only those CPE courses which have been approved by their state's accounting board, although personal interest should also be a factor. The available online CPA CPE can offer you a wide array of topics, while on the other hand traditional courses may offer you limited choices. Along with the benefit of great selection, online CPE for CPA brings a lot of other benefits as well. Cost effectiveness is one among them. Due to lower overhead costs online CPE for CPA is becoming one of the most popular choices for CPE in the accounting industry.

MasterCPE.com is an online destination for CPAs offering online CPE courses for self-study which are convenient in more than one way. The website allows the CPAs to register quickly and easily to start taking advantage of these courses. A CPA can purchase a high value subscription that allows access to all of the courses (except ethics) from MasterCPE.com. Renewing the subscriptions is also an easy task and provides a discount to existing members. CPAs with fewer CPE requirements can instead choose to buy individual courses. Both individual as well as group membership plans are available at MasterCPE making CPA CPE more cost effective than ever before.

The courses are all online, so there is no waiting and no shipping involved in the process. The downloadable PDF version of the course material makes the CPE self-study procedure an easy task because the CPA can read the material on their computer or they can print it out. CPAs just need to have an Internet connection to access the site and can then complete the courses from anywhere at any time. After successful completion of the course, which includes successfully passing the examination, online certificates will also be available for immediate printout.
