Windsor Rugs - a Fine Choice for Home Décor by Julia Roger

Article published on March 9th 2012 | Business

In the world of carpets, the Windsor rugs have created a particular place of their own. They highlight a certain style statement and have uniqueness of their own. No question on their quality, as they are made from the finest quality of cattle wool. It is to be noted that the entire designing part as well the weaving part takes place through the help of bare hands. No machine is used in the weaving process.

If taken into account the style statement, then a Windsor rug can be either contemporary or traditional. There are different designs to select from. However it is necessary to pick the correct dealers for purchasing of these carpet items. The items should be genuine or else the money investment procedure goes in vain!

New Zealand is the major production place for Windsor rugs. In fact, the finest breeds of cattle are available around this part of the world. Hence, it is quite obvious that the purest form of wools is obtained to prepare these rugs and then export them to other parts of the world. Although, these items are manufactured at other parts of the world these days, but none can match the quality of the original Kiwi made items.

The cleaning process of these items needs to be focused strongly. They require dry leaning once in every six months. Look out for specialized dry cleaners to perform the job. It is necessary or else the carpet quality may just face with some sort of deterioration. On a regular basis, it is necessary to perform a dusting session through the help of vacuum cleaner. If the vacuum cleaner is not present within the room, then arrange for a carpet cleaning brush. It can be also a perfect one for cleaning wiping off the dust particles from the carpet body.
