Be visible - use an online resume builder and portfolio builder by Julia Bennet

Article published on February 17th 2012 | Career

You must be aware of the success stories of online job portals. They have used the Internet to the fullest and have made it very easy for employers to find and select resumes and job seekers to look up jobs online and apply for them. But online job application is actually much more than these online job portals. If you create your online resume and portfolio you are able to make yourself visible to employers all over the world that are looking for profiles matching your expertise. You must use the online resume builder and portfolio builder offered by some websites and market your skills.

Todayâ€™s employers prefer people that are tech savvy and innovative in presenting themselves. When you use an online resume builder and portfolio builder and mark your footprint on the net, you show them that you are both of these â€“ you know how to use the Internet effectively and you are smart. Any prospective employer seeking skills matching yours will be happy to have a conversation with you because they will realize that you have that potential to do something new, something unique.

Using an online resume builder and portfolio builder is very simple. Just follow the steps given below and you will be able to complete the job within an hour.

1. Go to Google or any other search engine and search for â€œonline resume builderâ€• or â€œonline por builderâ€•. You will get a list of search results.

2. Visit some of the listed websites and check out what they offer you. It is best to check out some of the samples that some of them will have on their website. The samples will tell you whether a particular website is good or not.

3. Check out the online resume builder and portfolio builder that they have and try them out. See if they are easy to use.

4. Once you are satisfied just go ahead and create online resume and create online portfolio.

5. The website will now list your resume and portfolio based on the expertise and skills that you have.

6. You are now visible to the entire world through your online resume.

But this is not all because you have a host of promotion tools to market your online resume. Use Twitter and Facebook to let people know about your website. You can also do some SEO on your own and get your online resume website ranked well with search engines. If you want to use the Internet there are thousand things that you can do and it is up to you to use them.

But of course, you need to have a proper resume and portfolio before you even think of marketing. And an online resume builder and portfolio builder is the perfect tool to have in this regard. Get associated with a professional website and create a thoughtful resume and portfolio and you will never need to look for jobs. The jobs and the prospective employers, on the contrary, will be seeking you out and offer you to join.
