Article published on February 17th 2012 | Career

Many of the readymade businesses that one can purchase around the world involve the preparation and sale of fast food and drink, which rules them out as a viable option for people that are interested in investing in something that does not require their presence in order for it to generate money. However, if you are willing to have a good look around it is possible to find a business opportunity that could make you money even while you are sleeping.

If you are suspicious of moneymaking opportunities offered by companies that claim you will be able to make a fortune whilst lazing on a beach sipping cocktails, this is entirely understandable. In fact, anybody that is inclined to believe in the promises made by such organisations is probably better off keeping their money in a bank and finding a more conventional way to make a living. Having said that, it is possible to make a good income without having to do very much and if you find a franchise for sale in the financial services industry, you might be able to make a steady return on your capital without having to lift a finger.

One type of business that can make an income for investors who are not keen on working themselves revolves around lending money to other entrepreneurs. Whilst this may sound like a risky proposition, when teaming up with a company that is experienced in vetting applicants it can be very profitable. Risk cannot be ruled out completely in any business unless you also rule out the possibility of reward but you should be able to minimise your exposure to bad debts from investment in Africa and other countries by choosing a reliable partner. A financial organisation with a history of successful ventures is obviously more attractive than one that has just started in the industry, as far as most people are concerned.

Whatever type of organisation you are dealing with, it is a good idea to hire a competent lawyer to look over any agreements that you are thinking of signing. Although the majority of franchise companies are not out to rip people off, it is never sensible to enter into any business arrangement without checking all the details first.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/career-articles/finding-a-franchise-for-sale-that-really-works.htm - Article Side

James Himes - About Author:
Oneserv
a Franchise For Sale
Phone Number : +27 (0)12 470 3602
Email Address : bemarking@wealthdesign.co.za

Article Keywords:
franchise for sale

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!