Article published on June 9th 2012 | Clothing

Many people wear leather jackets for expressing their urban cool right from hip hoppers to Harley riders. In addition, this attire is regarded as the accessory for rock star wannabes and rock stars and they also possess an illustrious history and they make fashion sense. They are being used in various lines of recreation and work as well. They are the only attire that can enable a person to make a transition from office to a recreation stall on the town since they are suitable for both formal and non-formal occasions.

In the earlier 1950s, 60s and 70s, movies and televisions portrayed characters with this attire, even real world rock stars were picking up this attire for getting an attractive appearance during their stage shows. Predecessors of these jackets were the military men and aviators of 1940s and they were wearing bomber jackets.

There are different types of leather jackets and these different types are being worn for different occasions. The classic bomber jackets that are worn by celebrities and military people are less thicker and less tailored, while Italian leather jackets are known for their soft leather and tailored cut. Motorcycle jackets are offered with many zippers and buckles. Initially leather jackets were offered just like normal attire and later with the popularity of these attires designer jackets were introduced by some of the best designer in the world. Some of these designers offered the designer leather jackets with asymmetrical cuts thereby offering a fashionable edge to the line of jackets.

Of the different models of leather jackets, vintage jackets are regarded as the right choice for fun loving people since these are offered with lower cost as compared to other models. A well-designed jacket can offer several benefits like chillness during late autumn, protection against light rain and wind. Motorcyclists wear these jackets not only to get a cool look, but also for protection their torso and arms in the case of any accidents. Designer leather jackets are adaptable since they are highly suitable for canvassing purpose by just including a designer label.

Nowadays, designer jackets suitable for both men and women are being sold by some of the best manufacturers through online via their website. From these online stores, men and women can check the new arrivals and they can also get their size measured before purchasing a jacket. Some of these manufacturers offer free shipping and free return facility as well.

This content has been taken http://www.ideamarketers.com/?articleid=3303477&CFID=187787919&CFTOKEN=41593994

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/clothing-articles/details-about-leather-jackets.htm - Article Side

Newtonfaxo - About Author:
FactoryExtreme is the online fashion retail space for a designer jacket leather outerwear.You can choose the finest premium quality leather from leather tanneries such as Designer Leather Jackets, a Leather Jackets Designer, Designer Leather Jackets for Women.we carefully produce each and every individual outerwear piece and accessory with love,care and precision at our own one-stop complete service production facilities.

Article Keywords:
Designer Leather Jackets for Men,Designer Leather Jackets for Women,Designer Leather Jackets,Designer Leather Jacket,Leather Jackets Designer,designer jacket

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!