As itâ€™s said, on the wedding day the bride should look her best. However, this doesnâ€™t really mean that the bridesmaid shouldnâ€™t look dazzling. You can select the size, fabric, style and color of the various bridesmaid dresses offered.

There are a couple of Dos and Donâ€™ts when picking a bridesmaid dress. When choosing a fabric, donâ€™t necessarily go for satin. Look for fabrics like chiffon, silk crepe or silk chiffon. Donâ€™t make the attire a head to toe matching. You can try mix and match of various colors, this will make your bridesmaid comfortable and give them an opportunity to look and feel their best. Make sure you choose all the bridesmaids dresses in the same fabric.

Let each girl pick a shade for their bridesmaid dress that suits their complexion and figure. If the girls are fond of purple, then try lilac, lavender, plum or purple bridesmaid dresses, these will look very dreamy. Choose a shade according to your wedding theme. If your wedding is at a beach, choose blue as your color. Blue bridesmaid dresses will complete the look and are ideal for a party at the ocean.

You can also use flowers to add on to your bridesmaids dresses. This is simple and an elegant way you can customize their bouquets and make them feel special. If you have to select colors as per your wedding theme, you can choose the same flower in various shades or mix and match several flowers and shades.

Lastly, donâ€™t forget to choose the right accessories for your bridesmaids. Accessories are very essential to complement the bridesmaidâ€™s dresses you have selected. Check flirty satin belts or silk scarves. Pretty beaded clutches give bridesmaids' an option to store their must haves. If you're having outdoor wedding, chiffon or satin wraps are elegant add-ons, for a final touch, turn to jewellery, necklaces or quirky charm bracelets make great attendant gifts for your bridesmaids.
