How to Select Your Dream Wedding Dresses Color by Ebony Gladys

Article published on June 13th 2012 | Clothing

Traditionally, the color of wedding dress is white or ivory. Many people think this color is elegant and fresh. Now, however, more and more modern brides will choose wedding dresses in many different colors. The most popular colors of wedding dresses are white, blue, ivory, pink, red, black, purple and green.

White Wedding Dress

Queen Victoria of England wore a white wedding dress in her 1840 wedding to Prince Albert and is often said to be responsible for the popularity of the white wedding dress today. Brides had not commonly worn white wedding dresses before Queen Victoria popularized the color and influenced the fashion choice of future brides. Now, a white wedding dress represents purity, innocence and virginity.

Blue Wedding Dress

In the past, blue also represented purity, as white does for today's bride. In my opinion, blue is a color which stands for calm, tranquility and faithfulness. People will think of water when they see the blue color, so a blue wedding dress might be appropriate for a beach wedding ceremony. The sensitive bride is very suitable for wearing blue dress, because blue can add their elegant atmosphere perfectly.

Pink Wedding Dresses

Pink represents love, fidelity, innocence and is distinctly feminine. A pink wedding dress is a good choice for those who will have second marriages. It's sometimes chosen these days for a Valentine's wedding date.

Red Wedding Dresses

Red wedding dress can represent passion, love and power; in China, the color red is considered to be good luck. Red is a color choice for a bold bride, and is sometimes chosen for a Christmas wedding date. The red is attractive. It represents enthusiasm and festival .In Chinese traditions and customs, the red formal dress of the bride are always popular.

Black Wedding Dresses

In our views, black is not a lucky color. It often represents death. Actually, black is also very sophisticated, classic and graceful. Black wedding dresses are often suitable for those gothic wedding. A confident bride can wear it!

Purple Wedding Dresses

Purple is always a royal color. It represents power. So if you are a capable. Modern and independent woman, you can choose the purple wedding dresses. Of course, many purple wedding dresses are used by gothic weddings.

Green Wedding Dresses

Green is a vital color. It is with the nature and environment. Garden or forest wedding can use these green wedding dresses. The green is vibrant color, it represents that the bride is intelligent and cute.

Now more and more people choose colorful wedding dress. They are no longer confined to traditions. They have courage to break the routine and find the wedding dress that fit for them.
