When itâ€™s a formal event only a formal tuxedo will do. The correct approach for achieving the perfect tuxedo is to first of all find the custom tailor for the job. This is only right since one doesnâ€™t go around ordering a tuxedo every other day. One therefore must get the best custom tailor for the job, one that has the right sense of values and the right attitude coupled with traditional bespoke skills. A formal tuxedo is most essential for a gentlemanâ€™s wardrobe and since one canâ€™t conjure up a tuxed overnight itâ€™s necessary to take the right steps from the beginning much before one is actually required.

The black tuxedo is the formal outfit for special occasions. You must look forward to the entire business of ordering your tuxedo since itâ€™s bound to be a most pleasurable exercise. The better custom tailor has a large inventory of fabrics for the tuxedo shirt and the tuxedo. The custom tuxedo shirts can be in white, cream, black, color and white on white. The fabric can be two ply 140s, white poly/cotton blend or two ply 80s among others. For the black tuxedo shirt one can select from among two ply superfine 120s, Thomas Mason 120s, Thomas Mason Black Linen and Thomas Mason Cotton Satin. The fabric for the black tuxedo can be selected from a range of materials that includes Super 110s Anise Black, Scabal Blue Label 130s black, Super 120s black and John Cooper Super 150s black besides others.

Having selected the fabrics for the tuxedo and shirt the next step is to finalize the styling for both. For the black tuxedo shirt one has to select the right collar, collar length and height as well as finalize the collar and cuff stitch pattern. The long sleeve cuffs must be French cuff in styling and one can select from among square, rounded, contoured and convertible. The body front and body back styles have to be firmed up and one may exercise the option of monograms. Similarly, the tuxedo jacket style could be with the notch lapel or the shawl collar and the peak lapel or the double breasted variant. Finally, thereâ€™s always the custom tailor whose expert opinion may be consulted.
