The fashion industry is one of the largest and fastest growing industries in the world. But as fashion expands and globalizes, the term has become more and more subjective. Although there are still design rules norms that are afloat most people nowadays dress up according to what pleases them, what they want and what's comfortable for them. This where the evolution of streetwear came about and how it all started.

Streetwear has become an epitome of daily wardrobes of people who strive for self identity, individuality and personality. Fashion nowadays is term that is very hard to define. Its meaning has become more subjective and personal throughout the years allowing each to freely express their selves in terms of clothing. As many people would say, fashion is an art, art is subjective, subjective is an opinion, opinion is expressing yourself therefore fashion is mainly about how you express yourself.

Most of the time people are inspired by random things on how to dress up. It can be the coffee you drank yesterday, the graffiti you pass by every morning or the sudden death of a loved one. People get fashion inspiration from just about anything. If you want to be inspired more and see what streetwear is all about, here are some suggested websites you can visit to get inspiration from.
