Article published on June 20th 2012 | College

Imagine, you are interviewing the favourite celebrity of yours in a prominent event. See yourself as a reporter and get more closer to the well known people. How amazing that sounds? Don't you wish to get a career like that? How about becoming a journalist? You can materialize the dream by taking up journalism & communication programs. Want to know more? Go ahead with this piece of information.

There are many universities offering bachelor in journalism and mass communication. If you want to know about the colleges then you can get going with the Internet. With so much of advancement, major universities have their web presence. This way, it gets easier to reach out to the students from all locations. If you are looking for a prominent university, you can search on the Internet. It is important to find out the most reliable and well affiliated college so that it can support widely to your career growth. Though, there are immense parameters which affect the selection of the right college. To start with look into the eligibility criterion. These courses normally require intermediate with considerable marks. Though, it widely depend son the organization. Secondly, it is important to look at the entrance examination and interview sessions as well. This helps the organization to have the best students for the course. So, if you want to then you have put your heart and soul into it.

Other than this, you have to also look into varied other aspects such as placements and internship program. Make sure that you get to train yourself at best and most industry leading media agencies. This can help you to get the best learning. With effective learning, you can imbibe skills from the experts. Keep a track on the placement offered by the college. This can help you to a grab an excellent opportunity without running to much. The subject of journalism & communication programs are vast and extensive in nature. There are a lot of subjects to learn. Majorly, the course deals in print, electronic, radio and web. According to your choices, you can take up any area. All the media sections have promising future ahead.

For instance, if you want to become a print journalist, you can get placed with the best print organization in the country. Looking at your talent, you can even go abroad and work. Similarly, there is a huge requirement for dedicated media person in other media. The world of media awaits you.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/college-articles/a-path-ahead-in-media.htm - Article Side

Ravi Saxena - About Author:
Ravi Saxena has more than 3 years experience in Content Writing and working for University of Technology & Management which provides education in Technology and management courses. If you are looking for fashion courses, you can find the information on website for a BJMC.

Article Keywords:
BJMC, journalism and mass communication

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!