This article is about smoking. Well I think that this topic is boring for you guys, but there is something unique which will force you to read it more. The story is about the extremist of smoking.

Once I was surfing on the net for my assignment. I was looking for the best custom essay writing service, so I was little bit confuse that on which essay writing services I should click on. Actually, I was really tired because of party held at my friendâ€™s home. Suddenly, I saw something about smoking; I then got more indulged in that topic. I saw that there is a small kid of two years approximately and he smokes a lot. There was also written that around forty cigarettes. I was shocked to see this, because it was really difficult to digest that how a little child smoke so much cigarettes and no one was with him that can make him understand that this is not good for your health.

Any ways, I was shocked to see this, and therefore it made my interest more. Not even this, but also smoke approximately forty cigarettes per day. I also saw the video of him on youtube, he was smoking like he is doing great job and with this act of him he feels very proud. There was also a picture over there. The face expression of him shows that he feels comfort when he smoke, and he is sitting on his small wheel truck. The get up shows that he is sitting like the lorry driver of the middle age.

I wanted to help that child because he was so cute and sweet. Most of the people want to smoke but sometimes because of the environment they could not smoke so they just take the nicotine made bubble. By just chewing the bubble they can have taste of the cigarette. When I was reading this on the net, suddenly I came to remember that I had to make the assignment for my college.

As you all know about the custom writing service that there are lots of companies which give services of custom writing services, but writing original essay is the first requirement of every customer so this is also mine. My mind was again and again going towards those smoking child. I then looked that what is tobacco. There I studied that in the warm climates; the plant having green in color is a tobacco. The utilization comes of tobacco after having many processes. This is not like this that we just pluck it from the trees, and just insert this into the cigarettes. First of all, we pluck it from the trees and then we just dried it, and then finally this utilizes in different things for different purposes.

Anyway, I think with this article I can say or can humble request to those who smoke, so they should not smoke. Smoking means you are decreasing your life.
