The following is the introduction of the players for the Diablo 3 BUG:

BUG finally disclosed, all right. As an insider, I now truthfully and that the origin under the BUG, ??which may be D3 ever Guards of the BUG, ??time is the evening of July 4, the Asian server maintenance finished, the players enter a large number of the game, resulting in off time within the server congestion, data anomalies, frequent dropped calls. Most of the studios and individuals to play the G carriers, they use plug-in auto-login feature, frequent log. Some plug-in script login, frequently caused by abnormal personal account data. For example, 1-2-2 cold cellar script. The BUG's account is mostly used in the script, hanging in the server card will appear Login G coins the number zero in on-line body and equipment and restore in the on-line, the BUG is the principle.

Data anomalies caused by the server to restore the default, account roles stuck every time on the line to restore the body G coins, pay attention to where equipment can be card disappear. Of course, this element of luck, on July 4, you just maintain finished log in the game, just use a plug-in, just the server card, resulting in your account the role of the body equipped with G coins disappear, just your data overflow is the most important just your body G coins number is sufficient for the majority of millions - tens of millions of G ranging from the number of on-line recovery in the BUG is the approximate number of your body G coins, then congratulations to you, you are off the assembly line can have several million - tens of millions, the OK then you one day profit dozens or millions of RMB is not a dream, D3 become our ATMs.

Well, we hope Blizzard can be alert. If the BUG exists, then the Asian server soon will be breakdown. Gold will also completely lose its value. But the BUG really is not so easy to find. In fact, those who profit from the BUG used to the means of money laundering.
